

Dear Carroll Families,

We pray and hope that your family and you are safe, well, and in good health during this unusual time we are facing.

The members of the Guidance Department would like to reassure all our families that we are here to support the students' academic and emotional needs. Now that our students are fully engaged in virtual learning, we are very proud of how well they have been doing. However, we understand how difficult some of these changes can be to some of our students and so we are here to assist them in any way we can. We will be monitoring their progress closely with their teachers as we want all our students to succeed, maintain their focus and reach their academic potential. We ask that you please monitor your child's engagement and progress. Please do not hesitate to contact us via email or schedule a phone conference if any difficulties should arise.
